

Cherrequine Bible Doctrine Ministries

dikaosune.com

OMNISCIENCE

GOD is all knowing or omniscience (which comes from the Latin OMNI, which means all, and SCIENTIA meaning knowledge. God is perfectly wise –His wisdom is perfect. He knows perfectly and eternally all that is knowable, whether actual or merely possible.

God knows everything that has been known or ever will be known. Never was there a time when God did not know everything that is knowable –He never learns anything because He has always known everything [Proverbs 15:3, Isaiah 36:9-10, 1 John 3:20].

The omniscience of God is both eternal and infinite –He has always known everything and there is nothing that He does not know [Acts 15:18].

The omniscience of God has complete and absolute knowledge of everything that is knowable and unknown to us. Everything is totally comprehensible to the infinite God. The Bible reveals only a small fraction of God's perfect knowledge for us to know and understand Romans 11:33].

The omniscience of God is perfectly wise –and has absolute knowledge of everything since maximum knowledge belongs to Omniscience of God [Ephesians 3:10].

Every detail of all creation and history is in God's mind at all times and always has been from the eternity past. This is God's mentality connected with His infinity. The future is as clear as the past.

God foreknows the future –since all events take place according to His counsel (or what we called divine decree). God foreknows, but His foreknowledge is not predetermined.

God knows every step you will take, but He never interferes with human volition. He foreknows the function of every free will. He knows what every being will choose and He knows which way each person will decide in the function of his free will in every situation of life.

Although God never interferes with free will, God is gracious and all wise, so, He may determine, which choice is made through His gracious influence through:

- A. Bible doctrine resident in the soul of the believer.
- B. God's control of the variable of life that are beyond human control.
- C. God's direct control of human history.

God's perfect knowledge (omniscience) is not subject to development, reasoning, regretting, foreboding and revising, because His omniscience is always total and perfect, therefore it cannot develop beyond what is already is.

God knows all the conclusions as well as the premises; hence, even though He is totally reasonable and rational in all things, He never needs to reason out.

We can never second-guess God. There is no way we can improve on His system. We can simply go along with His perfectly wise policy (which He designed for our best interest) or reject it, – in such case, His perfect plan goes right along without us.

Although His omniscience transcends time and eternity, His perfect knowledge of all events before they occur does not violate or interfere with human volition. By divine design human beings are free agents who can choose to partake of God's grace or reject Him. Making every person personally accountable to God for every decision and action that he made.

Under the omniscience of God, there is no such thing as FATE OR BAD LUCK because all events take place according to His counsel (the divine decree) and our present is the result of our previous decisions that we have made.