

The Fallacy of Spiritual Growth

02

Fallacy 2: Spiritual maturity is measured by the length of years one is involved in the church.

Truth: Spiritual maturity is measured by the maximum Bible doctrine stored, resident, functional and operational in the soul of the believers under the power of the Holy Spirit.

Argument: Anything that has life will grow but nothing without the proper nourishment and sustenance. There is no instant growth, or magical growth by laying of hands, or anointing. Spiritual growth is through consistent, progressive, systematic and daily intake of Bible doctrine.
