WARNING!
facebook may lead to adultery

HOW FACEBOOK BECOME ACCESORY FOR FORNICATION AND ADULTERY:

1. Reminiscence and reheating the flame of love with an old crush, hook-up, ex-girlfriend or ex-boyfriend.
2. Online most of the waking moments and allowing FB to dominate every day activities.
3. Using FB to make public announcement of marital and relational problems to solicit sympathy and emotional support.
4. Inviting new potential relationship using flattery, seduction and deception techniques.
5. Over-exposure and over-sharing of personal matters resulting to inappropriate attention and care from potential relationship.
6. Using the FB chat room to over expose personal issues and current bad relationship opening the door for new relationship.
7. Using FB games like Cityville to manifest the longing and the need for real care and attention through exchanges of items.
8. Using the comment box to flirt and make double meaning comments on pictures that are posted. Both the pictures and comments serve to trigger emotional sympathy leading to inappropriate relationship.
9. Approving and inviting friends that could threaten the relationship that includes the exes, the wacky friend and relatives, the flirts, and other potential threats.
10. Keeping the FB activities as secret and very private affairs.

A horizontal timeline consisting of six blue rounded rectangular boxes, each containing a year and a description of an event. The boxes are arranged from left to right, with a large, light blue arrow pointing to the right behind them. The text inside the boxes is white.
