

MYTHS FOR MAKING GOOD DECISIONS

- People learned to make good decisions from pains, sufferings and bad experiences in life.
- Well educated people are in better position to make good decision.
- Past experiences give the edge for making good decision in the future.
- Religious people are in better position to make good decision.
- People who failed in the past will more likely make good decisions.